

IT'S TIME FOR CHANGE

Meet Columbia's newest 501(c)3 fighting for better laws to protect our animals

our mission

Laws Saving Paws is dedicated to safeguarding the rights and welfare of animals through innovative legal reform and advocacy. Our mission is to advocate for stronger laws that reduce issues related to animal overpopulation, abandonment, neglect, and exploitation—all while fostering a culture of compassion and responsibility. We'll strive to empower communities, educate the public, and work collaboratively with policymakers to ensure that every voice is heard and upheld in the legal system.

Together, we're committed to creating better lives for the animals of Tennessee and beyond.

This affects all of us

With a smaller pet population (even in the shelters), the numbers below* represent other ways your tax dollars could be used:

24,000

The number of school lunches that could be provided to kids

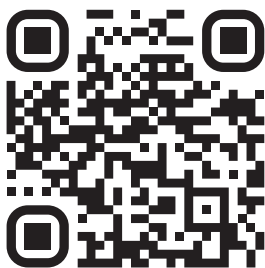

730

The number of pot holes that could be filled

1,200

Total packs of reversal spray provided to first responders

Actual costs vary widely across regions*
